City Council sells initial bonds on $15 million sewerage project

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Merchants Bank and Trust of Bay St. Louis purchased a $1 million bond Monday from the city of Bay St. Louis.

The general obligation bond with an interest rate of nine and an eighth will mature in 15 years, according to Edward Favre, Bay St. Louis city clerk.

Although the terms of the bond pledge the full faith of the city to pay the bond even if a tax must be levied, Favre said the council believes there will be enough revenue generated from the utility system to pay the bond.

Funds from the bond sale, along with a $1.5 million loan from the Farmers Home Administration will be used for the first phase of a $15 million project to upgrade and install utility services throughout the city.

The entire project is expected to be completed in five phases with each one taking about two years.

Favre said the time to complete the project could vary depending on the availability of funds the city will channel into the project through its regular budget.

"The first phase of the project will lay the groundwork for future additions," Favre said.

Work covered in the first phase will be mostly additions to the existing sewer system, with a small amount designated for a water distribution system.

The primary concern in phase one of the project will be to develop a sewage collection system in the city. Bond funds will be used to construct a trunk line for sewage collection from Felicita Street to the city's lagoon.

Beginning with a new lift station off Felicita Street, the line will continue westward to Blue Meadow Road, then down to the intersection of US-90 and Main Street.

Crossing under US-90, the line will continue westward down the south side of the highway to Drinkwater Road, where the line will cross under the highway again.

Lift stations and manholes will be installed at that location to provide service to the proposed new hospital and other new businesses.

On the south side of the highway, the line will continue westward to Washington Street before angling to Suebe Street and then south to Old Spanish Trail.

The final path will be west on Old Spanish Trail to the lagoon.

In addition to the main trunk line, collection lines will be constructed in the annexed area to tie into the Turner Street pumping station.

Included in this project are portions of Bouslog and Turner Streets from US-90 to Eighth Street; Bismark from Suebe to Bouslog Street; and Eighth Street from Suebe to the city limits.

Favre said the work was being done in this area because it is the most heavily populated area with the greatest need.

The final portion of Phase I will involve a water distribution system running from the intersection of Washington Road and US-90 to Longfellow.

Running eastward on Longfellow to the city limits, the line will serve Pontiac, Mercury, Buick, Lincoln and Cadillac Drives.

"With the sale of this bond the first step is complete and we hope for construction on the project to be started by the first of the year," Favre said.

The city at this time is also involved in securing the additional $1.5 million funding pledged by Farmers' Home Administration, Favre noted.

"Once all the bonds are issued, we can start advertising for bids on the construction," he said.

Hopefully the contract bid advertising will be started by mid-November, Favre said.

Construction should be completed on the first phase of the project within 12 to 18 months.

Favre added that most of the basic problems with utilities in the city can be solved within four to five years.

The entire project was first envisaged in 1981 when a study was begun to determine what was needed throughout the entire city in utilities (gas, sewer and water) drainage and street improvements.

Bay police begin enforcing curfew

By DENA BISNETTE

Following the arrests of two juveniles in connection with a vandalism incident at Bay St. Louis Junior High School, the police department has decided to enforce the city's curfew.

Acting Police Chief Murray Ladner said he arrested two 16-year-olds Sunday and turned them over to youth court authorities after they allegedly broke into the school building and damaged the windshields of three vehicles.

About $150 to $200 in damages resulting from vandalism occurred at the school after the two youths apparently entered the building through a window.

They are charged with burglary, although nothing has been discovered missing, Ladner said. He explained that breaking into and entering the building is covered by burglary charges, but vandalism is classified as malicious mischief.

Both youths also face three counts of malicious mischief in the breaking of the windshields of a van and a car parked at Hancock Industries and a car parked at a Toulme Street residence.

"These two kids were out at 1 o'clock in the morning," Ladner said. "They had nothing to do except get into trouble."

Ladner said the incident led the police department to begin enforcing the city's curfew this week in hopes of preventing further vandalism.

"About 85 percent of these vandalism-type crimes are committed by teenagers who are out after midnight," he explained.

The curfew requires that any juvenile out after 11 p.m. on weekdays and midnight on weekends must be accompanied by an adult.

"Any kid we find out after the curfew without an adult will definitely be picked up," Ladner said.

In other police action this week, Kevin Keaton, 18, of Bay St. Louis, was arrested Monday by Bay Police Officer Bill Brown and Investigator Joe Pica.

Keaton, charged with alleged child molesting, was being held in the Hancock County Jail on $5000 bond Tuesday and was scheduled to appear before City Judge Joseph Benvenuti Wednesday night, Ladner said.

Circuit Judges endorse need for county jail

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The need for a new Hancock County Jail received endorsement from the Second District Circuit Court Judges on Wednesday.

J. Rubie Griffin, senior judge of the district speaking on their behalf said, "We have come to the collective opinion that the need for a new Hancock County Jail is supported by the leaders of both major political parties. Therefore it is not contrary to judicial ethics for judges to express their opinion."

"Our opinion is there is a dire need for a new jail in Hancock County," Griffin added.

Griffin, Judge Kosta Vlahos, and Judge James Thomas are in the Second Judicial Circuit Court District which includes Hancock, Harrison, and Stone Counties.

The new county jail also received the endorsement of the Hancock County Fair and Livestock Association at the group's Tuesday meeting.

Additional earlier endorsements include the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, the leaders of the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, National Association for Advancement of Colored People, Altruism Club, Bay St. Louis American Legion Post No. 139, Waveland Civic Association, Hancock County Woman's Club, Hancock County Farm Bureau, Hancock County Bar Association, American Association of Retired Persons, as well as other civic and business groups.

Judge Griffin who personally inspected the jail stated, "The old jail is overcrowded and could endanger the health and safety of inmates."

When asked how the overcrowded conditions affected the sheriff's office he said, "The sheriff is required to give closer attention to the jail because of the crowded conditions, and the courts also before incarcerating someone. A new jail would hold more persons and certainly the courts will be less reluctant to give jail terms for the simple reason there would be a place to put them."

Supervisors declare emergency situation for drainage repair

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has declared a drainage problem on county road near Jordan River Ranchettes an emergency situation in order to speed repairs.

The road, which runs off Highway 803, provides access to the subdivision.

Improper drainage of water is moving the dirt out from under the road, Board President A.A. "Dolph" Kellar explained.

The declaration of an emergency situation will allow the supervisors to fix the road without the three-week delay involved in the usual advertising and bidding procedures.

In other business related to roadwork, the board accepted a petition for the continuation of a road in Beat One, discussed the possibility of adding parts of Beach Road and Moran Road to the State Aid Road Program, opened bids on the striping of the roads in Diamondhead, and approved marking Blenville Church Road with 30 mph speed limit signs.

The board also approved the recommendations of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission and acted on a recommendation from the County Planning Commission by granting final approval for the Lambert Development Subdivision.

In addition, the supervisors decided to attend Douglas Williams Appreciation Day at 7 p.m. Nov. 9 at St. Augustine Seminary. The event honors former Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams, who recently retired.

The board also held a public hearing concerning the enlargement of the Diamondhead Fire Protection District. No one appeared at the hearing to object.

Also, the resignation of L.J. Breau from the city-county library board was accepted and Elizabeth Claggett of Diamondhead was appointed as his successor.

Pass gambling raid nets cash

Football betting sheets and other gambling records, along with about $125 cash, were seized when Pass Christian police raided the Gemini Lounge at 347 St. Louis St. Sunday morning.

Mrs. Mae Scarborough, lounge manager, surrendered to police Monday afternoon and was charged with two counts of gambling, according to John Dubuison, Pass Christian police chief.

She was released after posting a $800 bond.

Taylor to speak at meeting

Senator Gene Taylor will be the guest speaker at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce-Morning Edition Coffee Thursday, Oct. 25, beginning at 7:30 a.m. at Rose's Cafe, 220 Coleman Avenue, Waveland. Sponsors of the coffee will be Ashman-Mollere Realty and Rose Clark.

Taylor will be speaking in opposition to the proposed amendment to the Mississippi Constitution. This amendment would seriously weaken restrictions on elected officials in their business dealings with various state governmental agencies. This amendment will be on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Taylor serves on the Conservation Committee as subcommittee chairman, Salt Water Fisheries Legislation. He also serves on the election committee and offered the Senate version of the Bill that did away with dual registration.

All chamber members and their guests are urged to attend this coffee.

Hancock Bank merger proposal to expand operations coastwide

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock Holding Company, the parent company of the Hancock Bank, announced yesterday that an agreement in principle has been reached with the Pascagoula-Moss Point Bank to consolidate the two banks.

Under terms of the agreement, Pascagoula-Moss Point stockholders would receive $150 cash, or the equivalent of $150 in preferred stock for each Pascagoula-Moss Point share.

Some 150,000 shares of Pascagoula-Moss Point Bank stock are outstanding.

The merger of the two banks will result in a bank with total assets over $81 million which would serve the Mississippi Gulf Coast between the Alabama and Louisiana state lines.

Consummation of the transaction is contingent upon execution of a definite agreement and approval by the boards of directors of both companies, the shareholders of each, and state and federal bank regulatory authorities.

Hancock Bank was established in Bay St. Louis in 1899 and now has locations in Hancock, Harrison, and Pearl River Counties.

The main office is located in Gulfport with Leo Seal Jr. of Bay St. Louis as president and chief executive officer.

Taylor cites Farmers Market building among first year accomplishments

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Hancock county agent Lee Taylor says his first year here has been a busy one with something going on all the time.

"One project I am particularly proud of is the construction of the Farmers Market building located at the fairgrounds," he said.

An estimated $60,000 income is being realized by the farmers who sell products there and this amount is extra money in the county, he said.

Taylor added that the groundwork for the project had been laid by former county agent John Smith.

"I am also very proud of the local Cattlemen's Association which is currently one of the most active in the state," he said.

"Since I have been here the association has had several meetings with as many as 90 members attending," Taylor said.

Another project Taylor has assisted with is the Livestock Show last November when approximately 75 animals were shown.

During his tenure, Taylor established the County Extension Advisory Committee designed to assess the needs of the community, note the problems and determine if extension programs are meeting the problems.

Last June Taylor served as organizer and director of a 21-county District Horse Show. He said there were more than 800 entries.

"I think the show was a good project for the county as it brought many people and an estimated $20,000 into the county," Taylor said.

It also helped create more tourism interest in Hancock County, he said.

Through the 4-H program, Taylor said he has taught a Hunters' Safety Program to more than 2,000 youth and adults.

The Hunters' Safety Program is ongoing and is being taught in the schools this year as well as in night classes for adults.

Taylor serves on several agricultural and other local committees including Soil Conservation Committee, Fair Commission, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and is an honorary board member for Farm Bureau.

In addition to programs carried out last year, Taylor reports he had more than 60 newsletters and circulars mailed out in the county on subjects ranging from beef and cattle production to timber production and growing flowers.

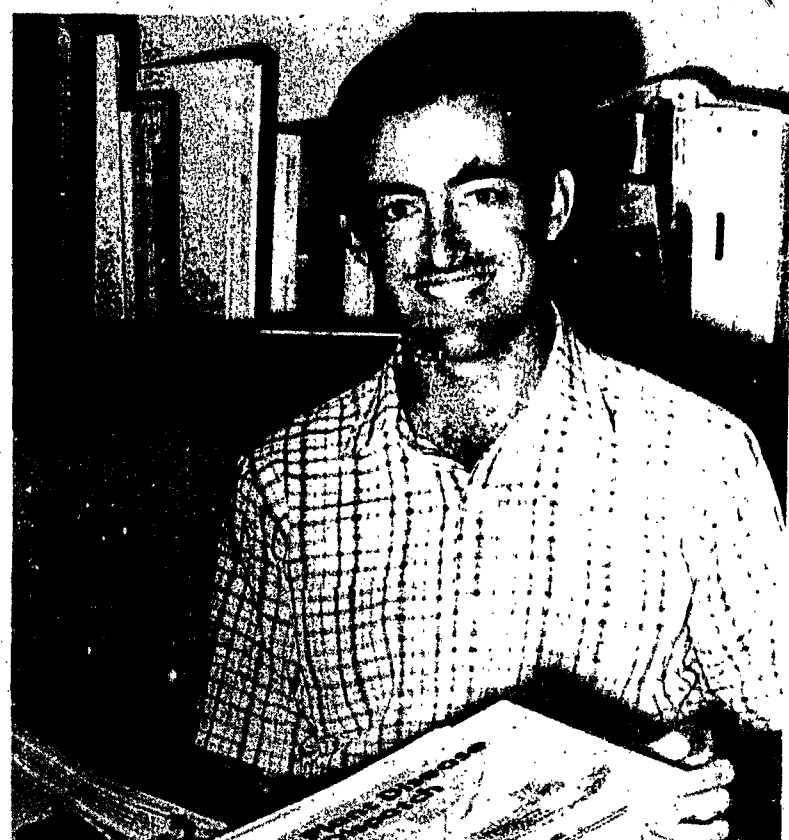

He says there are telephone and office visits every day for information and that he visits approximately 20 farms a month.

"You never know what you are going to be asked next," Taylor said.

We try and find the answer to every question, and if we can not find it there are several resource people we can ask at Mississippi State University, he said.

Taylor said during the past year he has held various programs as well as assisting and advising farmers and home owners on such subjects as pasture planting programs, obtaining soil samples and interpreting results and weed control and disease control programs for farmers.

"It's been a lot of long hours but there is always something new and I have enjoyed the time here," he said.

LEE TAYLOR, County Agent

Roper addresses legal secretaries

John M. Roper, magistrate of the United States District Court, Southern District of Mississippi, addressed the Harrison-Hancock Legal Secretaries Association at its October meeting at the Western Sizzlin' Steakhouse in Gulfport.

Roper was the full-time magistrate appointed in Mississippi where there are now three full-time magistrates in the Southern District alone.

He is currently president-elect of the National Council of Magistrates. Roper said there are more than 650,000 attorneys in the United States today; that two-thirds of the attorneys in the world are located in the United States; that 30,000 graduate from law school each year; and that there are eight million cases pending in state and federal courts at any one time.

The differences between a magistrate and a district court judge are that district court judges are appointed for life by the Senate, and magistrates are appointed by the district court judges for an eight-year term. Magistrates administer the law of the courts as judges do but cannot try felony cases, Roper continued.

In 1787 framers of the U.S. Constitution considered having a magistrate system as in England where one person decided all matters concerning the country.

But they decided that it would give one person too much power, so they decided to have a "president," Roper noted.

Roper said a magistrate must be of "high integrity, impartial, fair, understanding, be able to deal with the power bestowed upon him, remain accessible to lawyers and the public, and demand that he and his staff be courteous to attorneys and the public."

New members initiated by Billie Ruddick, association president, assisted by Vice President Christy Freeman, are Theresa Lumpkin, employed by Attorney Thomas D. Berry Jr.; and Donna Drake, employed by Bryant, Stennis & Colingo.

Loretta Kiser reported 52 members registered at the fall MALS board meeting in Gulfport, of whom 13 were from the local chapter.

Elizabeth Brewer reported that the association's recent "Night In Court," presided over by Judge James Compton of the Biloxi Misde-meanor Court drew 25 participants of whom nine were members of the public.

Lyne Stewart, local governor and state parliamentarian, reported that a "Member At Large Chapter" was installed at the fall board meeting, the second such chapter in the United States and first in this district.

The next meeting of the chapter will be at the Beachfront Holiday Inn, Gulfport, 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8.

Coroner rules natural causes in Bell death

The Hancock County coroner ruled the death this week of Louise W. Bell, 84, of Bay St. Louis, was the result of natural causes.

According to acting police chief Murray Ladner, Mrs. Bell's husband William H. Bell found her dead in a bedroom of their residence at Bay Royale Apartments about 4 a.m. Tuesday.

Ladner said authorities believed the death was from natural causes, but ordered an inquest as a routine procedure whenever a person is found dead from unknown causes.

Coroner Harold Stiglet released his report late Wednesday.

Also covered were operations of tactical wheeled vehicles and individual Nuclear Biological Chemical (NBC) survival tasks.

He is a 1984 graduate of Hancock North Central High School.

SHAPING UP

By J. E. LOIACANO

How high should your pulse go during exercise? Your target zone, depending on your age and general health, will usually range between 130 and 160 beats per minute.

Watching your salt intake? Avoid blue or processed cheese, or pasteurized processed cheese. Cheddar, colby and brie are better choices.

Specialized exercise machines with weights are designed to exercise, build and develop individual muscle groups. A complete circuit of ALL the machines will strengthen you all over.

Weigh yourself every day? It can be misleading, say some authorities. Many figure-conscious people just check the way their clothes fit.

Modern, weight-lifting machines help create strength and flexibility at the same time, as users won't get "muscleburn," doctors and therapists explain.

Physical fitness depends on exercise as well as diet. For a program designed with your health in mind, join us at

Locally made satellite-reporting buoys to be used

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration scientists are preparing to airdrop satellite-reporting buoys made in Bay St. Louis. They will be placed in the path of an Atlantic or Gulf of Mexico hurricane to obtain vital information on sea-surface conditions that accompany them.

"The buoys will provide researchers sea-surface wind, temperature and pressure measurements, which should improve their understanding of storm surge," Dr. Peter Black of NOAA's Hurricane Research Division said.

Storm surge is the dome of water driven ashore ahead of a hurricane, sometimes reaching 25 feet above normal sea level. It is responsible for most hurricane-related deaths, according to the Commerce Department agency.

Forecasters at NOAA's National Hurricane Center also will use data from the dropped buoys with information from satellites, moored buoys, land-based radar and reconnaissance aircraft flying through and around the storms.

Four 450-pound drifting buoys developed by NOAA's Data Buoy Center in Bay St. Louis, will be loaded aboard hurricane reconnaissance aircraft for deployment by the Air Force's 815th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron, based at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi.

The free-floating buoys will provide researchers with ocean temperatures down to 600 feet. This will help them determine the available heat stored in the ocean near the storm, and how its energy fuels the storm's intensity and affects its path.

The buoys will relay observations through NOAA's polar-orbiting satellites directly to the National Hurricane Center and the Hurricane Research Division, both in Miami, said Dr. Jerry McCall, director of the Data Buoy Center.

Quotables by CUEVAS

High school football is now in the second half of the season.

Several upsets by local teams have made the first half real exciting.

Not too many people, including ourselves, ever thought Bay High's Tigers would dominate Long Beach as they did last Friday.

I know there are some folks thinking out loud to themselves saying 'I told you so.'

Hawk fans are still buzzing from Hancock North Central's one point, two overtime victory over St. Martin last week.

It is being ranked as one of the most exciting games in Hawk history.

This week an improving Bay High Tiger squad will journey to East Central.

It will be a very long bus ride for the Tigers and we know East Central hasn't been up to par this season.

Yet this is not for the Tigers to take them too lightly, as anything can happen in a high school football game.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will test Vancleave's Bulldogs at Vancleave.

The Hawks will have to keep the momentum from last week going to tame the Bulldogs.

Vancleave always gives a good performance against the Hawks.

After taking a week's rest, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey to Petal on Friday.

The Rocks are hoping to bounce back after a loss two weeks ago to Long Beach.

Stanislaus will have to get their offense moving and score quite a few points to master Petal.

The high sailing Pirates of Pass Christian will have to get it all together when they journey to Pearl River Central.

The Blue Devils are rated as 18th in the state for high school football teams, and they are seriously wanting to move up a few notches.

The Pirates will have to play flawless ball for the entire game if they want to gain a victory over the Blue Devils.

In the local eight-man football league, unbeaten Coast Episcopal Raiders visit Grace Academy in Ocean Springs at 7:30 p.m. Friday while Waveland's Trinity Academy Lions entertain Open Door Academy of Foley, Ala., also at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Gulfview Elementary field in Lakeshore.

We wish all of our high schools luck this week.

We also hope we do better on our picks this week, dropping four out of four on pro picks and two out of three on high school did not help us last week.

We could have done better by flipping a coin.

Several members of the Scianna family of Bay St. Louis will appear Friday evening at 6:30 p.m. on Channel 8 on the TV program 'Family Feud.'

Those on the program are Chuck, Rita, Paul, Paige, and Peter.

We know the results, as the program was pre-recorded, but will keep you guessing.

Judge's ruling on trespass questioned

Oct. 14, 1984
Ref: Article, Sunday, Oct. 14:
"Clinic protester cleared of trespassing charge"
Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:
I cannot understand how or why this Dr. S. Gottschalk was cleared of a trespassing charge by Judge Benvenuti.

The police were called on two occasions because she was trespassing on private property—called by Mr. S. Davis, a citizen and employee of the owner of the Jay Triche property.

He was authorized to act in Mr. Triche's absence.
She was told to leave the property the first time by an officer of the law

Doctor defends position on picketing, arrest

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:
I am a board-certified pediatrician and am also certified in neonatal-perinatal medicine.

All of this means that I have a strong commitment to children and am an expert in the areas of the unborn and newly born child.

In my practice I care for premature infants. When one of my small patients dies, I feel a sense of pain, a loss.

In appearance my patients look no different than the babies in the buckets of the abortion clinics.

I assure you that the unborn life being taken in these clinics is real human life. No scientist will say otherwise. If you don't think this is so, make a decision not to abort, and see what happens.

Many times in the last several days and months, I have heard people say, "I am against abortion, but..."

The police officers who carried me from the parking lot were keeping a commitment to uphold the law of the land. Several of them told me they were against abortion.

Abortion is against the law of God. Most of us have some religious background. As adults we took oaths to uphold the law of God. I am a Catholic Christian and made this commitment through the sacrament of confirmation.

The bishop tapped me lightly on the cheek to remind me that my commitment must involve risk.

It's time for each of us to make a choice. If we truly think abortion is the taking of unborn human life, our choice must be to end this slaughter of unborn children.

Each of us must choose. To do nothing is a choice. To uphold a law that we know is immoral is a choice.

Each of us must make that choice in the depths of his own conscience, and she did.

However, she chose to return and trespass a second time.

On the second occasion she had to be removed from the property by several law enforcement officers.

A warrant was signed by Mr. S. Davis and a plea of not guilty was made by the judge because Dr. S. Gottschalk did not understand guilty from not guilty.

What kind of doctor is this anyway?
And that the owner of the property himself did not call the law—I must say I find very frightening to know that when I am away from my home anyone can trespass into my property because I am not there to personally tell them to leave, and the judge will say it's OK.

Think about it folks.

County workers deserve raise more than elected officials

Oct. 11, 1984
Letters to the Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,
My wife works for the Hancock County School District.

She is not a teacher, but is one of the two nurses who serve the 2,009 children in our county school system.

She could, and has, earned five times the amount she is now receiving on her present job.

Like most child-loving people, she cares. She asks for nothing but the supplies and equipment to do her job.

But I want more.
I can't see a woman work as hard as she does for what appreciation? Low pay, few supplies, antiquated equipment which is shared with other departments, and long hours.

Like most dedicated professionals, she does a lot of work at home for the school district. She worries about this child and that one. Our phone bill goes up every time one is in the hospital.

She calls to find out how they are doing. She can't stop feeling she is needed, which she is.

Unlike some county elected officers, she can not give herself a $5,000 raise. Her salary has remained the same as when she started three years ago.

With all the hard-working people needing help—county teachers, nurses, kitchen workers, janitors, and maintenance crews—I can not see elected county officials with nerve enough to vote themselves a raise.

All the people who work for our county school system need help, not only financially, but with supplies and the means to help children and parents.

They need understanding in the jobs they do. We trust them with our most precious possessions, our children.

We should show them it is appreciated.
We have good people to do the jobs. Let's not lose them because we don't care.

Sincerely,
Thomas A. Wheeldean
Bay St. Louis

Vote for a new jail a thoughtless act

Dear Editor,
What type of person would vote for a new jail?
I believe a very thoughtless one. Students from the southern part of the county are required to ride for 90 minutes to school.

Where are our priorities?
Will we spend millions to make a criminal comfortable or should we build a school more centrally located.

Thank you,
Tommie Ray Spiers

Travirca responds to Echo letter

Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca has issued a statement responding to a letter to the editor that appeared in Sunday's Sea Coast Echo.

The letter, written by Deer Street resident Shirley Schwebel, contained "statements that are incorrect," Travirca said.

Mrs. Schwebel's letter alleged that Deer Street is "so full of pot holes you drive down the street like you're drunk dodging them" and that Travirca failed to have the road blacktopped because "his crew is very busy in Diamondhead."

She also stated that mosquito control in her neighborhood had been neglected.

"As for mosquito control, I'm not in charge of that, but if I get a complaint I'll call the people who are and tell them about it," Travirca said.

Travirca denied that Deer Street is full of holes, saying that he and Russell Necaise of Necaise Construction had driven down the street last Thursday to discuss repairs and had not found an unusual number of holes.

He also denied telling Mrs. Schwebel or anyone else that his crew was busy in Diamondhead.

"I don't have any part of Diamondhead in my beat. Necaise is the contractor for the Deer Street job and is finishing up a contract in Diamondhead. It's his crew working up there," the supervisor explained.

"I've been working feverishly to get the contractor over there and get the job started. We've still got the money to do it. It's part of about $54,000 set aside for various road projects."

He also said he knows nothing about a hole dug during the repair of a water pipe the letter mentioned.

"Her facts are all incorrect other than the fact that the Deer Street job has been delayed," he added.

Travirca also said he disagrees with allegations that Mrs. Schwebel was unable to contact him. He said he can be contacted at his residence most of the time but never received any messages from the woman who wrote the letter.

Visitor lauds Hancock General emergency service

To the Editor

Dear Ed:
While taking a much needed vacation in beautiful Bay St. Louis, the unthinkable happened.

My wife became extremely ill one night around 12:30 a.m.

I immediately called an ambulance which responded very promptly. She was taken to Hancock General Hospital.

The doctor on duty in the emergency room was Dr. Bill Bradford. He immediately started treating my wife and at no time did he leave me unaware of her condition.

Dr. James Crittenden was called in around 1:30 a.m., who I must say came immediately.

I can't say enough about these two cafeteria with home-cooked meals and so on.

The reason we voters should all feel this way is because we want to go out and work hard every day so we can pay for a bond to help the criminals have a nice pleasant life for shooting and/or killing people, robbing, stealing, selling dope, trespassing, etc.

Come on now, people, do we really need a new jail?

Big B to open Pass location

Mississippi Gulf Coast Big B Discount Drugs is celebrating the opening of a new location in Pass Christian Sunday. Anthony Bruno, president of Big B Inc., said the new store, one of 100 in the Big B chain, will be located in Gulf Plaza Shopping Center on US-90 next to Sunflower Food Store.

Opening is scheduled for 9 a.m. Sunday.

"The new facility will provide all of Big B's customer services including computerized listings of all prescription purchases for tax and insurance records," said Bruno.

An additional 15 percent off Big B's prescription prices is offered to customers age 60 and over.

The store also will offer appliances, housewares, lawn and garden supplies, automotive supplies and seasonal specialties in addition to health and beauty aids.

There will be grand opening specials offering additional savings Bruno noted.

In addition, customers may register for a $100 gift certificate which will be given away in each store in conjunction with the opening of Big B's store in Pass Christian.

Washington senior group endorses Thad Cochran

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran has been endorsed for re-election by a national senior citizens organization.

The National Alliance of Senior Citizens has endorsed the senator, saying, "Thad Cochran is a friend of the senior citizen community. His consistent support for those issues which most directly impact on older persons has given seniors a clear record on important senior questions."

Mrs. Virginia Aubrey, alliance president, said from the group's Washington headquarters, "It is a pleasure for me to announce the full endorsement of NASC for the re-election of Thad Cochran to the U.S. Senate from Mississippi."

Senator Cochran commented, "I am pleased and honored to have the endorsement of the National Alliance of Senior Citizens, and I am proud of my record on behalf of older Americans."

Mrs. Aubrey said, "Senator Cochran has scored consistently high ratings on the annual rating of the National Alliance of Senior Citizens, the Golden Age Index."

"There are three major sources of concern to the older person which are considered by NASC on its rating. They are income security (Social Security), health security (Medicare) and personal security (crime measures). On these issues, Senator Cochran has stood by the senior community," she said.

She commented further, "The progress in preserving the Social Security system, the innovation of the Medicare program in seeking to hold down costs and the urgently needed reforms of the federal criminal justice system have all been helped by the work of Thad Cochran."

Senator Cochran pledged to continue giving "high priority to the needs and programs affecting senior citizens in my future work in Congress."

Winter challenges Cochran's leadership

Democratic senatorial candidate William Winter expressed disappointment in his Republican opponent's failure this week to use his influence with President Ronald Reagan to gain approval for the proposed Shoccoe Dam and other vital state water projects.

"I share the disappointment that has been expressed to me by numerous victims in the flood-prone Pearl River Basin area that this flood control measure did not pass. It is seen by many as another example of Senator Cochran's ineffective leadership in the Senate. It will now be months and possibly years before there is any federal flood relief for these flood-weary residents," Winter said.

Winter noted that Cochran has termed the water projects as 'pork barrel' legislation. "Senator Cochran may regard these vital water projects as just 'pork barrel' legislation, but those citizens who have been the victims of two devastating floods do not agree with so cynical an assessment," Winter said.

The former Mississippi governor noted that it was not until he called on Senator Cochran in early September to get behind the Shoccoe Dam project that the incumbent senator finally decided to make up his mind and support the project.

"We must have strong leadership in Washington which represents the needs of the Mississippi people. The failure to secure funding for these high priority projects for our state demonstrates Senator Cochran's lack of clout within his own party," Winter said.

President Reagan told Congressmen that he would veto any congressional appropriations measure designating money for water projects including in Mississippi the Pearl River work and the deepening of the harbor in Gulfport.

Environmentalists endorse Winter

Environmental Action's political action committee, EnAct/PAC, has announced its endorsement of former Mississippi Governor William Winter for U.S. Senate in the Nov. 6 General Election. Winter is challenging incumbent Republican Thad Cochran.

"Winter has a strong commitment to reauthorize and strengthen landmark environmental legislation like the Clean Air Act, the Clean Water Act and Superfund," explained EnAct/PAC Director Amy Chapman.

During his term as governor, Winter provided leadership on several conservation issues. Over 17,000 acres of land were acquired for wildlife preservation during his administration, and Winter improved management of the state park system.

Winter's opponent, Sen. Cochran, has been a major roadblock to progress on environmental and energy issues. In the recent Senate session, Cochran voted against a motion to reauthorize and strengthen the Superfund hazardous waste program.

"The environmental contributions that William Winter made as governor and has pledged to make as a senator will insure that Mississippians will have a cleaner and safer world for themselves and for their children," added Chapman.

"The residents of the state deserve a representative who will fight for them on these issues rather than parrot the Reagan Administration's blatant disregard for environmental quality. EnAct/PAC encourages all Mississippi voters to support Gov. Winter on Nov. 6."

Environmental Action, Inc. is a nationwide lobbying organization. Its work encompasses energy, toxic, recycling and arms control issues.

Pittman named vice chairman

Mississippi Attorney General Edwin Lloyd Pittman has been named vice chairman of the Southern Conference of the National Association of Attorneys General for 1985.

Selected as chairman was David Armstrong of Kentucky. Outgoing chairman is Gerald L. Bellas of Virginia.

Pittman attended the Southern conference in Virginia which includes the attorneys general of 12 Southern states. The conference schedule included a broad range of issues including the growing legal problems in the area of religion.

The group also discussed utility holding companies and the difficulty of regulation across state lines.

Nurses enter new field

Rhonda Cospelich, LPN and Pat Nilson, RN, recently helped with the opening of a satellite eye bank to be housed in the Gulf Coast Community Hospital.

The bank designated by the Mississippi Lions Eye Bank in Jackson to be the bank on the Coast opened in August.

At the eye bank the nurses will be performing a process called 'enucleation' which is the surgical removal of the eyes after death.

The operation has to be done at least six hours after death and the transplant has to be made within 72 hours.

Dr. Robert Little, ophthalmologist, will check the eyes before they are sent away to make sure that they are suitable for transplant.

Cospelich and Nilson attended workshops to learn how to remove the eyes and also to learn their responsibilities for the coordination and placement of donor tissue in and around the coastal area.

"Education about eye donation is very important. It's not a horrible thing like some people think, after all we're helping people to see again. What could be a better thing than that?" Cospelich said.

Cospelich and Nilson said that when they operate on a person who has died of a contagious or infectious disease that if they have donated their eyes, the eyes are used for research.

The nurses said the important part of the eye, the part that gives sight is the cornea.

"It is a thin layer of membrane and it looks like a contact lens," said Nilson.

"The white part of the eye called the sclera can be used in ear surgery and in cosmetic surgery," added Cospelich.

No part of the eye is wasted.

The main reason the satellite eye bank was chosen to be opened at Gulf Coast Community Hospital is because of the large number of donors from the coastal areas.

Gulf Coast Community is the only hospital in Mississippi to house an eye bank.

Purchner nominated Career Woman of Year

Jeanette Monti Purchner has been selected by Bay St. Louis-Waveland Altrusa Club as nominee for the honor of Gayfer's Career Woman of the Year.

"Our motto is patriotism, efficiency, service—and we of Altrusa feel that Jeanette Purchner best exemplifies all of these, in service to her community and in her career," said Mrs. Randolph "Theresa" Bourgeois, president of the club.

Purchner has been employed by Hancock Bank since January of 1961, beginning in the bookkeeping department. Currently she is a loan officer, the operations officer for the branch, and assistant to the Hancock Bank Highway 90 branch manager.

Her community and career activities include membership in Altrusa, Credit Women International, International Consumer Credit Association, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, American Institute of Banking, National Association of Bank Women, Dixie Council (District) Credit Women Association, Hancock County Library Board and Hancock County United Way.

She is a charter member of Altrusa, serves as membership chairman and is a director on the board.

Positions currently held by Purchner in the other organizations listed above are director for Mississippi in the International Consumer Credit Association; parliamentarian, Gulf Coast Chapter of Credit Women International; chairman of the budget committee, Mississippi State Association of Credit Women; secretary of the Board of Trustees, Hancock County Library System; chairman of the fund drive for the Hancock County Girl Scouts in 1983 and 1984.

Q. What can I do if I disagree with a decision on the amount Medicare will pay on a claim?

A. If you disagree with a decision, you always have the right to ask that the decision be reviewed. For more information, you can contact any Social Security office and ask for free copies of the pamphlets, Your right to appeal decisions on hospital insurance claims and Your right to appeal your medical insurance payment.

Q. Does Medicare pay for eyeglasses and eye examinations for prescribing, fitting, or changing eyeglasses?

A. No, Medicare does not pay for these services; however, Medicare medical insurance can help pay for Medicare-approved corrective lenses needed after a cataract operation.

Q. When is a medical condition considered disabling?

A. Under SSI, a person 18 or older is considered disabled if a physical or mental impairment prevents him or her from doing any substantial gainful work and is expected to last for at least 12 months or to result in death.

Q. How can I find out if I can get supplemental security income payments?

A. You can call or visit any Social Security office, and ask for a copy of the free pamphlet, SSI for aged, disabled, and blind people.

Q. I get SSI checks, and 6 months ago I moved from Pennsylvania to Maryland. Why did this change the amount of SSI I get? I thought SSI was a Federal program.

A. Moving from State to State can change the amount of your SSI check because part of the money you get may be a State payment. This is called the State supplement, and each State has different rules about the supplement they pay and different State supplement amounts.

Q. What about children under the age of 18? When are they considered disabled for SSI?

A. A child under 18 may be found disabled if he or she has a physical or mental impairment that is comparable in severity to one that would prevent an adult from working and is expected to last at least 12 months or result in death.

and member of the Hancock County United Way.

Purchner served as a member on the board of directors of the Hancock County United Way for three years, and previously was chairman of the Hancock County Cancer Drive.

As a member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, she served on the board for seven years, and was chairman of the special events committee for three years.

"We of Altrusa are extremely proud of Jeannette's accomplishments," Mrs. Bourgeois said, "and are honored to present her to the Bay St. Louis-Waveland community as our nominee for Gayfer's Career Woman of the Year Award."

HONOR INITIATES—Recent initiates of the honors Program at The University of Mississippi include Mary Langenbacker of Waveland. Students must rank in the upper five percent of their class to be eligible for the program.

Outstanding Young Men listed

Five local residents were recently selected to be listed in the 1984 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

They are David Michael Trelles and Chuck Benigno of Waveland, Michael St. John Battalora of Bay St. Louis, Louis John Hall of Pass Christian and Wayne Phillip Ducomb Jr. of Kiln.

These men were selected from nominations received from senators, congressmen, governors, mayors, state legislators, university and college presidents and deans as well as various civic groups, including the United States Jaycees which also endorses the Outstanding Young Men of America program.

In every community there are young men working diligently to make their cities, as well as their country, better places to live. These men, having distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor, are outstanding and deserve to be recognized for their achievements, the nomination report stated.

The criteria for selection include a man's voluntary service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments and civic and political participation.

These men listed, along with fellow Outstanding Young Men throughout North America will be featured in an annual awards publication.

Darlene Underwood, Hancock County home economist, invites the public to join the Extension Homemakers Clubs in an "Arm Chair Tour" of the country of Ireland.

Come to the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis on Oct. 24 at 2 p.m. Reverend Henry McInerney, a native of Ireland, will be guest speaker and will show slides of his homeland.

There will be a door prize and light refreshments will be served. Bring a friend.

HOLIDAY FOODS

A special program on holiday foods will be presented by Kathy Fernandez, Coast Electric, and Darlene Underwood, Hancock County Extension home economist, Friday at 10 a.m.

The program will include conventional and microwave cooking techniques in the preparation of traditional and untraditional foods. Instructors will discuss and prepare dishes using various turkey products currently on the market, demonstrate low-cost creative recipes to serve during holiday meals and for entertaining.

Fall and holiday table settings and home decorations will be featured to give participants ideas of ways they can use items they already have to enhance their homes during this festive season.

This program is free and open to any interested individual.

STENCIL PAINTING

This very popular decorating technique will be taught from 9 to 10:30 a.m. and repeated from 4 to 6 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 18 at Main Street United Methodist Church, Bay St. Louis.

Darlene Underwood, Hancock County Extension home economist, will present both programs.

The afternoon session is "come and go" for those busy homemakers employed in the area.

Stenciling may be used to apply a decorative detail to cloth, wood, slate, tin, wall board or baskets.

Participants will get a chance to try their hand at the technique. Those attending may bring an item of their choice to stencil.

These programs also are open to any interested individual.

FmHa extends 53 fiscal 84 housing loans

Jackie D. Williams, Farmers Home Administration supervisor in Hancock County, stated that 52 new housing loans were made in the county during the fiscal year ended Sept. 30.

Mississippi's FmHA housing program led the nation during the period, according to figures released this week.

Don Barrett, state director of FmHA, said more than 6,400 new home loans were made this year, totaling $228 million.

"This is not only more than twice as much as was lent in any other state," said Barrett, "the $228 million is a new national record which more than doubles the previous national record for FmHA lending activity in a single state."

By aggressively pursuing the home loan program this year, Mississippi

FmHA officials were able to obtain loan funds originally allocated to other states but not spent by those states, according to Barrett.

The FmHA housing loan program is designed to help low and moderate income families in rural areas obtain home loans that would be otherwise unavailable. "This is not a giveaway program," stated Barrett. "This money is loaned, not given, and the track record indicates that most of the loans will be fully repaid."

An important effect of the FmHA housing program is the tremendous boost to the rural economy. According to Barrett, each home loan will quickly pump about $40,000 into the local economy. "These funds have created thousands of job opportunities throughout rural Mississippi, he concluded.

REALTOR AWARDS—Kathy Page, an associate with Alfonso Realty, Gulfport, and Royce M. Hill, of Heritage Investment Corporation, Pass Christian, were awarded the "Realtor Associate of the Year" and "Realtor of the Year" awards at the Gulfport Board of Realtors September meeting at the Gulfport Yacht Club. The awards are presented annually for outstanding service to the local, state and national realtor associations and community service.

Chimney owners have two cleaning methods

By Dr. Frances Graham
Housing Specialist
Extension Service

Although some consider the chimney the most important component of a wood burning unit, it is also the most neglected.

Reported chimney fires have increased in recent years because more people are using wood in residential heating.

Chimney fires are normally caused by creosote forming in the flue lining as the result of incomplete combustion. Gases formed during the burning process are carried up the chimney and when cooled form a sticky liquid which runs down the flue liner. When the liquid dries, it becomes a highly flammable flaky substance called creosote.

If the creosote ignites, the fire will roar out of control in the chimney, damage the bricks and weaken the mortar. The fire can spread to the house which results in great losses.

One way to reduce the chance of creosote buildup and the fire that often follows is to clean the chimney regularly.

Most chimneys need to be cleaned annually. All chimneys should be inspected on a regular basis, especially prefabricated metal chimneys since deposits accumulate more rapidly in them than in masonry chimneys. If a chimney shows signs of significant creosote buildup, it should be cleaned immediately.

Two approaches to chimney cleaning can be taken. The first is to seek professional help.

If a professional sweep is chosen, his reputation should be checked and he should be asked to inspect for and suggest chimney repair needs. The sweep should do the job with a safe, clean and efficient procedure.

The second approach is the do-it-yourself way. Most of the equipment needed can be purchased at either a local hardware store or from a wood stove dealer. The following items will be needed, including stiff wire brush (hard bristle brushes should just fit into the flue or stovepipe; soft bristle brushes should be slightly larger), ladder, rope the length of the chimney, plastic sheets, tarp and drop cloths, tape, 15- to 20-pound weight, goggles for eyes, flashlight, small broom, small shovel, bucket, dust mask for mouth and nonskid footwear. After gathering the equipment, the do-it-yourself chimney cleaner begins by placing drop cloths over any furniture or carpeting that may be soiled by soot. Then the damper in the chimney must be removed and a plastic sheet or tarp taped tightly over the fireplace opening.

The chimney must be checked from outside for any loose brick. If repairs are needed, they should be completed before the flue liner is cleaned.

The chimney must be inspected before putting any weight on it. The buildup in the flue should be inspected cleaning.

Cleaning procedure required tying the brush to the rope, leaving enough rope to tie the weights below the brush, and lowering the weights and brush into the chimney.

A flexible rod also can be used instead of weights to push the brush down the flue.

Pushing the brush up and down the entire length of the chimney at least six times cleans creosote and should be continued until creosote stops falling to the hearth.

Have chimney cleaner use a flashlight to check the flue liner to assure that all the creosote has been cleaned from the walls of the chimney.

The next step is allowing the dust to settle, then removing the plastic sheet or tarp from the fireplace, scooping out the major debris with a shovel and emptying it into a paper bag, then using a small broom to sweep up the remaining ashes completes the job.

Household vacuums should not be used since the fine dust will burn out the motor.

Diamondhead political forum scheduled

Candidates running for state and local offices will be provided an opportunity to address residents and guests of the Diamondhead community Friday, Oct. 26 at the monthly members meeting of the Diamondhead Community Association.

The following candidates have been invited to attend and address the group: Senator Thad Cochran; William Winter; Trent Lott; Orin Coate; school board candidates, Lennette Necaise, Nell Koenen and Johnny Banks; and election commission candidates, Betsy Nolan, Conrad Saujeir and John Ladner.

The meeting will be at the Diamondhead Country Club with dinner at 6 p.m. and the meeting following at 7 p.m. For reservations call the Country Club, 255-1398. The cost will be $6.35 per person.

FOOD FESTIVAL—Carl Guy of Waveland was among the hundreds of persons who tried the foods at Our Lady Academy's International Food Festival held last Saturday. Visitors had a choice of famous foods from Italian to Cajun with special entertainment throughout the day. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

FALL GARDENING

September and October are popular months for home gardeners since these months provide the cool weather some vegetables need to flourish.

This month gardeners should plant leafy greens like lettuce, turnips, mustard and spinach. You also can set out cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower plants. It may be necessary to water the garden to insure good seed germination.

FARMERS MARKET

The local farmers market has really been a success this past year. Residents of Hancock County and weekenders have given good support to the market located at the Hancock County Fairgrounds. This past Saturday traffic into the market was especially good for being this late in the growing season.

Farmers who sell every Wednesday and Saturday have really enjoyed the new building. It's been estimated that having a farmers market here in Hancock County adds around $60,000 to the local economy. This really helps the farmer and also provides a source of fresh vegetables for their clientele.

On a visit to the market recently, it was observed that fresh tomatoes, greens, okra, peas, fruits were just a few of the vegetables that were available. Also a very good assortment of potted plants were available. So if you're looking for freshness at a good price, visit the farmers market.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

IS INSURANCE ADEQUATE?

Question: We purchased our home 10 years ago and are worried that we do not have enough home insurance. I suspect we are not alone and while we are going to increase the coverage, what can you tell me about changes in home insurance. L. C., Greenville.

Answer: Dear L.C.:

For many people their home is their biggest and most important financial investment, yet every year more than 500,000 houses are damaged by fire and many of these homeowners learn a painful lesson—the coverage they took out years ago has not kept pace with inflation.

People often misunderstand an important point about home insurance coverage. Under the terms of many policies, an insurance company will consider a property fully covered only if it is insured for at least 80 percent of its replacement value.

According to construction industry estimates, it currently costs around $60 a square foot, to rebuild the fire-damaged parts of a typical 1,500-square foot house.

Because this figure continues to escalate, you should review your coverage annually. An alternate form of coverage which many companies now are offering is the "guaranteed" replacement plan.

With this type of policy, the insurance company initially sets an estimated construction cost based on a house's design, size and location, and the coverage amounts are automatically increased each year, if construction costs go up.

In addition to guaranteed replacement protection on the structure, you can also purchase such coverage for the contents of your home. If you do not have such coverage and your contents are stolen or destroyed by fire, your settlement will be based on what is called actual cash value, under which you will get the purchase price less a substantial deduction for depreciation.

Area oyster season to open Nov. 12

Oyster season opens next month, but wildlife officials expect low stock limits and a poor yield from area reefs to hamper fishermen this year. The State Commission on Wildlife Conservation has set Nov. 12 as the opening date for commercial dredging and tonging on the Henderson Point and Pass Christian reefs. The limit will be 15 sacks per day.

No date has been set for the opening of the Pass Marianne reefs northwest of Cat Island.

Dr. Richard Leard, director of the Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources, said the limit at Pass Christian and Henderson Point may be increased later.

Officials do not know if the Pass Marianne reef can be opened later in the season.

The low limits and the decision not to open the Pass Marianne reef reflect reports that most of the oysters at Pass Marianne are still below the three-inch legal harvest size.

Leard said the oysters have suffered from unseasonable warm weather and that biologists' samples showed some indications of delayed spawning. Failure to spawn causes the oyster to appear "milky," which also indicates poor quality.

Officials are predicting a better season than last year's harvest of under 10,000 sacks.

However, experts still believe the harvest will be relatively small, partially because the reefs have not recovered from freshwater flooding that followed the opening of Louisiana's Bonnet Carré spillway last year.

Two arrested Monday to be extradited

By DENA BISNETTE

Two fugitives wanted by Tennessee authorities were arrested in Bay St. Louis Monday night after a brief car chase.

According to Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner, the arrests were made on a dirt road off Highway 90.

The two fugitives have been identified as Tommy Poe and James Deaton, both of whom are wanted on charges of burglarizing a residence.

Both are in jail awaiting extradition to Tennessee, Ladner said.

The sheriff's department was working on an investigation into an unrelated incident at the time an officer spotted the vehicle Poe and Deaton were using.

According to Ladner, that investigation has not yet been completed.

The investigation, a joint project with authorities in St. Tammany Parish, La., concerns a Sunday night robbery at the Charter gas station on old Highway 90.

In the incident, which occurred at about 10:30 p.m., a 72-year-old clerk was robbed, then shot and left for dead, Ladner said.

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department became involved in the investigation because the station is near the Hancock County-St. Tammany Parish line and authorities believe that whoever robbed the station may have crossed into Mississippi.

Ladner said that anyone who believes he has information related to the crime may call the sheriff's department 467-5101.

ETV Brief

SRI LANKA

"Nova" examines the threatening problems facing the small island nation of Sri Lanka, formerly known as Ceylon, in the documentary "The Fountains of Paradise" at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 23 on Mississippi ETV.

Food shortages, high unemployment, an unfavorable balance of trade and an impending energy shortage are among Sri Lanka's serious problems.

"Nova" investigates whether modern-day Sri Lanka will make that ancient dream come true or whether the new ambitious Mahaweli Irrigation Project will prove to be a sociological disaster.

Mississippi pavilion posters available to public

Mississippi World's Fair Council, Inc. reports color poster commemorating the Mississippi Pavilion is available to the public.

The 22-inch by 36-inch poster by Jackson artist Robin Evans illustrates the architecture of the 20,000 square foot state pavilion.

Al Elmore, executive director of the council, said the poster will serve as a "lasting reminder of our accomplishment."

The pavilion will be dismantled when the fair closes Nov. 11.

A limited number of posters were printed and are available for a contribution of $15 or more to the World's Fair Council.

The council was formed as a non-profit organization to direct the state's participation in the Louisiana World Exposition.

Poster order forms may be obtained by writing Mississippi Pavilion Poster, Mississippi World's Fair Council, P.O. Box 22825, Jackson, MS 39205, or by calling 1-800-962-2346 in-state.

He has also worked with the Arkansas State Health Department as a Medicare-Medicaid surveyor. Kincaide received a bachelor's degree in business administration from Arkansas State University.

Council plans drainage project on Ulman

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Bay St. Louis City Council accepted a proposal Tuesday from Broadway Engineers to plan a drainage project on Ulman Avenue.

For a fee of $2,000, the Picayune based engineering firm will layout the baseline, cross section, do a topographical layout, prepare necessary easements, draw plans and specifications and open bids for the project.

The project is estimated to cost the city approximately $15,000.

Also Tuesday, Bay St. Louis resident Burl Gibson addressed the council in regards to an excessive amount of trash blowing onto his property from the Market Town Shopping Center.

Following a discussion the council decided to contact stores in the shopping center about placing trash more securely in dumpsters.

They also plan to have a barrier constructed between the driveways by Eckerd's Drug Store and Ward's Fast Food. This barrier should prevent some of the trash from the parking lot of the shopping center from blowing across the road onto private property.

Also in the meeting the council accepted the Bay Planning and Zoning Committee's minutes and tabled a recommendation for rezoning.

The area recommended for a zoning change from residential to commercial is located on the north side of US-90 between Riemann Funeral Home and Market Town Shopping Center.

Councilmen also set a public hearing for Nov. 20 to gather public comment on proposed cleanup of two pieces of property.

According to Circuit Clerk Edward Favre, letters previously have been mailed requesting the cleanup of the Sylvia Miller property in the 300 block of St. George Street and property of the late Julia Perry in the 500 block of Washington Street.

At the hearing if the property has not been cleaned up or arrangements made for cleanup, the property can be declared a menace to public health or safety.

Following this, the city could advertise for bids for someone to do the work on the property and charge the amount to the property owners.

The council also accepted a proposal from the Southern Corporation for an annual gas leak survey.

The survey will be done in the central business district section of town for a fee of $292 per day. It is estimated to take two days for completion of the survey.

During the meeting, the council included in the minutes a report indicating there were $15,700 past due in utility bills. This amount included $2,037 due from Mayor Larry Bennett.

Also this week Peoples Federal Savings and Loan of Bay St. Louis foreclosed on Bennett's Citizen Street residence and on his commercial property on Central Avenue.

Bennett had filed for financial reorganization more than a year ago with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Biloxi, listing $80,000 in debts, including a $1,579 utility debt to the city.

The council recessed the meeting until Oct. 23.

LET'S TALK FACTS

On Nov. 6, we will vote yes for, not only a new jail, also new office facilities for our sheriff and his staff. Since 1972 grand juries have consistently recommended improvements be made to the sheriff's office space as well as the jail area.

AT PRESENT:

STAFF—Eighteen employees share a working space confined to 60x30 feet.

OFFICE SPACE—Included in this square footage is the Sheriff's Office (8x10) and another small office with one desk shared by two investigators.

WAITING AREA—Non exists at present.

CONFERENCE ROOMS—No private area for investigators or attorneys to either confer with clients or question suspects.

HOLDING OR BOOKING AREA—No place for those waiting to be booked or post bond.

EVIDENCE ROOM—Present space is "Make-Shift" and inadequate to store evidence properly until trials.

STORAGE OF RECORDS—Inadequate space and furnishings makes filling and storage of vital records almost virtually impossible.

DISPATCHING AND RECEIVING AREA—Dispatching, receiving, holding, and booking all share an 8x10 area. This space is hardly adequate for one office, much less four.

The inadequate and obsolete facility described above presently serves not only the sheriff, but the two local Police Departments in addition to the District Attorney's office. The responsibilities and inconveniences of our Sheriff's Department continue to grow each day as our population grows. The need is urgent!

Rocks seeking new momentum in Friday journey to Petal

By Tom Ackerman
Special correspondent

After a week's lay-off, the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws will be looking for win number four in their sixth outing of the season tomorrow night against the Petal Panthers.

And, according to Rock head coach Vernon Powell, it will be the toughest contest to date for his team.

"We start the toughest part of our season tomorrow night against Petal," the coach commented. "After that, it's East Central and Pass Christian, both tough opponents; and then we'll face Vancleave for our Homecoming. From this point, you can't win by outwitting your opponents. You've got to be better than they are."

The Petal Panthers will be playing with basically the same personnel as last year in the two-year series with the Rocks. Last year, Petal topped the Rocks 24-14 at the Stanislaus stadium.

This year, the Rocks will have to make the long trip. "Anytime you have a long trip, it's got to affect your game," Powell said.

"The last time we traveled for over two hours, we got beat by St. Paul of Mobile. No doubt about it, spending time on the bus is going to affect our play."

And what about injuries? According to the coach, the week off helped some of them heal, but it still might present a problem. "We've still got a few people who are beat up—some bruises here and there—but we're just going to have to play hurt."

"The time off helped give us a little time to heal, and it also gave us the opportunity to go back and work on some fundamentals," Powell continued. "Sometimes you forget about those things, so we went back just like we were starting the season."

And it's no secret that the Rocks will have to make some adjustments on both offense and defense. After an exciting season start with three big wins, the Rocks' scoring machine seemed to shut down for the past two outings.

"We've made some changes," the coach said, smiling, not wanting to give up too much information. "They'll be some adjustments on both offense and defense."

And the adjustments are going to have to be exhibited early on if the Rocks plan on keeping up with the Panthers. "They play a very fast-paced game," Powell said, commenting on Petal's play. "They hustle on and off the field, and they've got eleven men on the field who flow with the ball. And to top it off, they're a lot bigger than we are."

Although the Panthers have posted a 3 and 3 season, the coach says it's no indication of the type of team they are. "Look at whom they lost to," he said. "Quitman, West Jones and Columbia—all top teams. Every game was tough on them...and we're the homecoming."

But the picture isn't all negative. Sometimes a week off can pay dividends. "We had some momentum going in our first three games," Powell noted. "But then we lost it the last two. Sometimes, if you've got the momentum going, you can lose it when you've got an open date. But we're going to start out like it's the first game of the season. We'll find out Friday if we can get it going again."

Football Contest winners reported

Billie Tudury of 147 Felicity St., Bay St. Louis took the $15 first place prize money in a recent Sea Coast Echo weekly football contest.

Tudury selected nine winners in twelve games listed to edge second place winner Laurin Lafontaine, also of Bay St. Louis.

Lafontaine, who collected a $10 cash award, also selected nine winners in the contest covering games played Oct. 5-7.

Tudury was declared winner on tie-breaker points.

Soccer Results

BAYS Under-8 Girls Saturday lost a hotly contested 2-1 game; no game is scheduled for this week.

BAYS Under-10 Girls lost last week in a close 1-0 game; no game scheduled for this week.

BAYS Under-12 Girls Team, coached by Kathy Edwards, won 1-0 over the Blue Demons.

BAYS' goal was scored by Cindy Minnert.

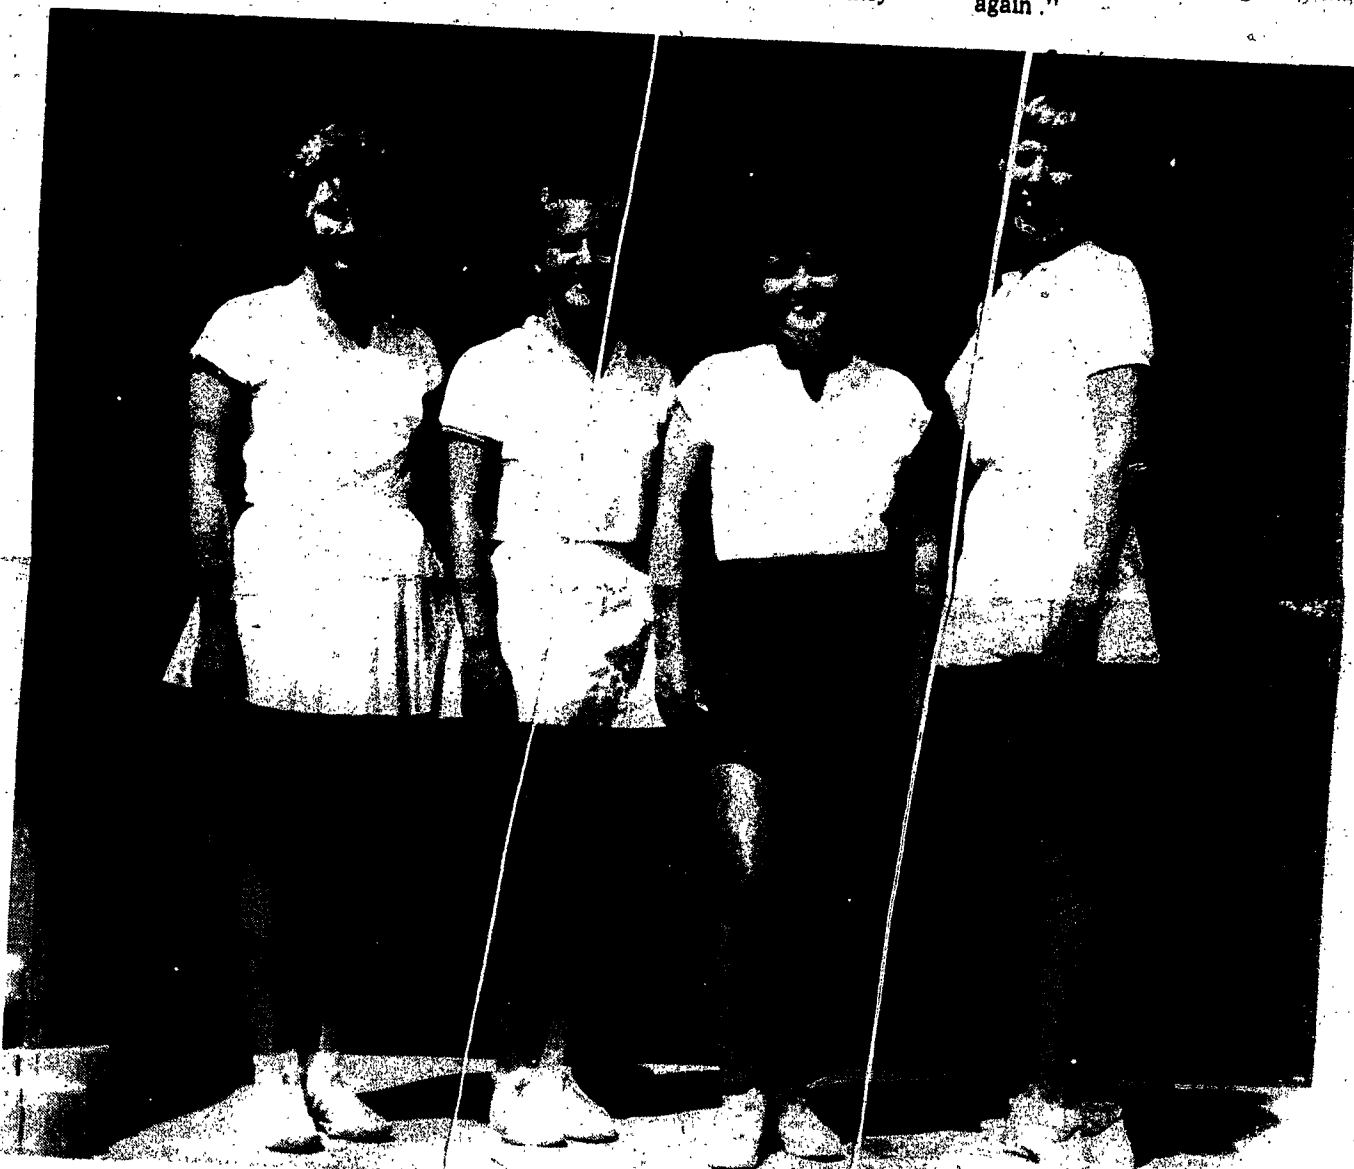

Coach Edwards remarked, "There is a great improvement in this team over last season."

Under-12 BAYS team members also include Susan Dean, Stephanie Findley, Annice Laneyne, Kim Manieri, Kelly Postema, Michelle Scherz, goalie Kelly Shaw, Christine Yonami and Michelle Williams.

BAYS Under-14 Girls game was cancelled.

BAYS Under-16 Boys Team, coached by Tom Edwards, won 4-0 over the Blue Demons in a practice game.

Four boys were injured by the BAYS and Blue Demons team was held accountable by the BAYS.

marr and guest Debbie Siefken, second; and member Mary McDonnell and guest Virginia Wagner, first.

DIXIE DARLINGS—University of Southern Mississippi fans will be able to see the Dixie Darlings, USM's famous dance line, perform at eight football games before the Golden Eagles end the 1984 season. The 57-member drill team, which performs to the accompaniment of USM's Pride of Mississippi band, includes Hope Chiniche of Bay St. Louis. The Darlings and the Pride are featured at Golden Eagle home games and most away games. The Darlings, formed more than 25 years ago, are chosen for their appearance, dancing ability and for their ability to learn routines quickly.

SSC JV WINS at HNC

Last Monday night St. Stanislaus Junior Varsity Football team beat Hancock North Central Junior Varsity by a score of 27-0 in a game played at Hancock North Central.

SSC opened the scoring when quarterback Jimmy Dempsey threw a 41-yard touchdown to Matt Caldwell, who broke three tackles going in for the score. Eric Doyle's extra point attempt was good, and the Rocks led 7-0.

Standout performances for the Rocks were guard Jim Hanlon, defensive end Brett Boudreaux, and linebacker Philip Wittmann. For the Hawks, Scott Curet gained good yardage on the ground, and made several key tackles on defense.

St. Stanislaus Junior Varsity record is 3-1, with their only loss a 12-10 setback to Hancock North Central earlier in the season. The next game for the Rocks JV is next Monday, Oct. 22 against St. John at SSC Stadium.

Tigers face East Central in conference game

By DENA BISNETTE

Despite their opponent's losing record, the Bay St. Louis High School Tigers can expect a tough game Friday when they face conference rival East Central.

"I don't think East Central has even won a game yet and they've had a problem with a coach being suspended that may affect them this week, but their team always manages to be up for the Bay High game," said Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams.

"In the past, they've always played us tough, so we can't afford to take this game lightly," he added.

"We know they have some pretty good backs and a good passing game. They also run a different type of defense as compared to our other opponents and we have to be prepared for that," the coach said.

The coach said he expects the Tigers to face hard hitting but believes that his team can develop a good running game against East Central, a contrast to the passing game responsible for most of the points in last week's win against Long Beach.

The East-Central game is also important because it is one of two conference games left on Bay High's schedule, the coach said.

Beating East Central and their last conference opponent, county rival Hancock North Central, could land the Tigers fourth place in the conference.

The Tigers lost their first three conference games against Stone County, Pearl River Central and Pass Christian but beat Vancleave, turning around what started as a losing season.

The Tigers now have a 3-3 record and, according to Williams, are trying for a 7-3 season.

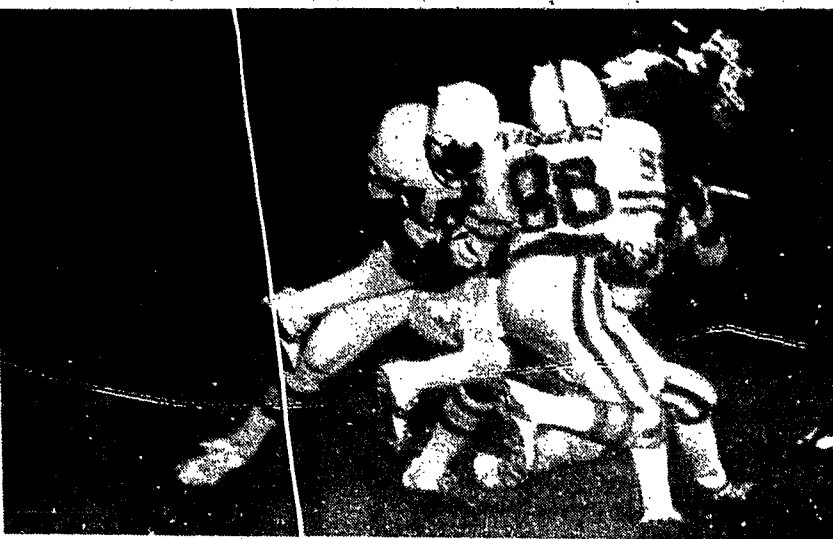

He said his team has improved with each game, relying mostly on a balanced offense and strong teamwork on defense, and expects to see continued progress Friday.

Statistics from the first half of the season show Trace McRaney as the leading tackler on defense. McRaney has 99 tackles for the season with 30 unassisted, or an average of five to six unassisted tackles per game.

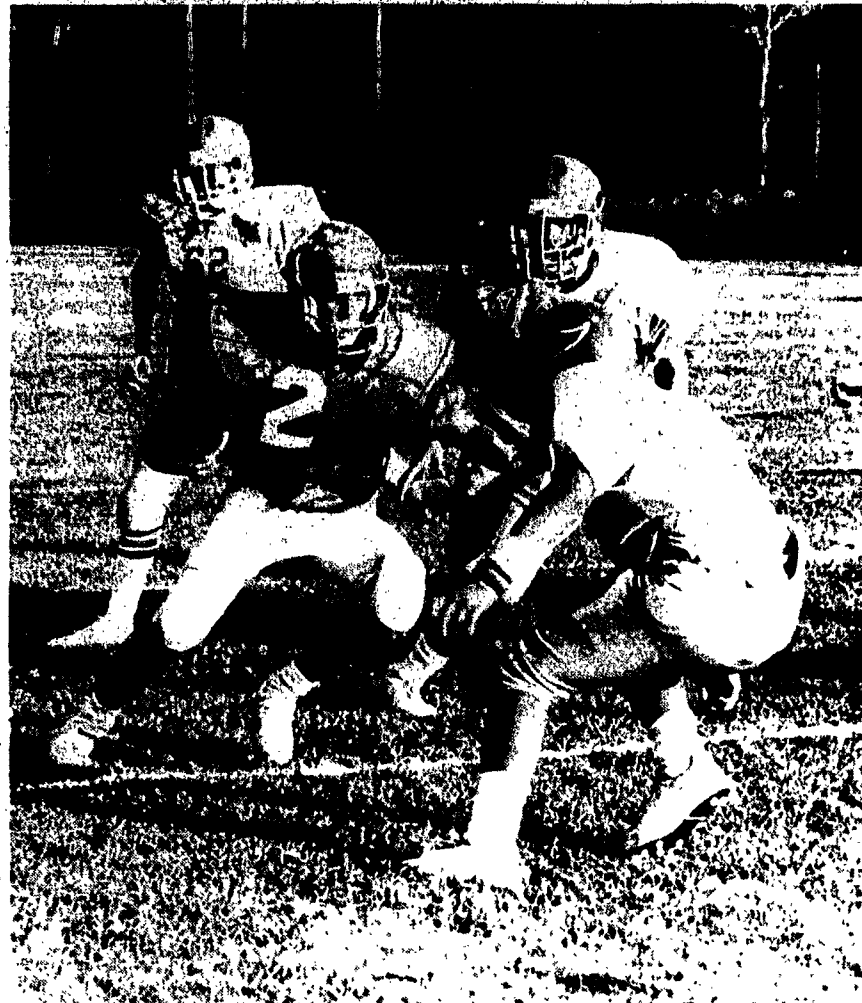

On the offensive side, Jeffery Smith goes into the East Central game leading the Tigers in total points scored with 30. Richard Whavers and Eddie Nelson are tied at second with 18 points each, followed by Trace McRaney with 16; Matt Fairconnetue with 12; Stace McRaney with 7; Quentin Bell with 6 and Jerry Head with 2.

Starters Friday are expected to include Smith, Head, Nelson, Trace McRaney, Whavers, Fairconnetue, Phillip Hart, Greg Necaise, Kevin James, Dennis Dear, Patrick Whavers, Robert Hargett and Jay Ginn.

Gametime is 7:30 at East Central's field.

Pirates travel to PR

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Pass Christian Pirates travel to Pearl River Central this week for their second consecutive road game. They will take on the Blue Devils of Carriere, who will be celebrating homecoming and will have the home field advantage.

Coach Alton Wright said his team will run a basic defense and add a few more option plays in the offense.

"They run an option game with an inside veer and an outside veer we will have to stop to win the game," he said.

Wright said that the Blue Devils like to pass the ball and he compared their quarterback to Stone County's outstanding quarterback, Stevon Moore.

He also said Pearl River shifts a lot on the defensive line and that his team is not very acquainted with this shifting.

"In some ways they are easily in the same category with Stone County (Deep South Conference winners with a 5-0 season record in the conference)," Wright said. "But the game could go either way."

The Blue Devils have a season record identical to the Pirates' record of four wins and two losses.

One loss for both teams is the powerhouse team from Stone County lead by quarterback Stevon Moore. The Pirates also had a loss to D'Iberville and Pearl River loss to Heidelberg.

Kickoff for the game will be at 7:30 p.m.

Hawks ready for Vancleave

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Riding on the tide of last week's victory over St. Martin, the Hancock North Central Hawks will take on Vancleave High School for their seventh game of the season.

The Hawks took a 28-25 victory over district opponent St. Martin Friday. With this win the Hawks eliminated St. Martin from the district competition.

It also upgraded the Hawks final game of the season to the district playoff game as D'Iberville is the only other team left in the running for the 4A division district title. This game will be played Nov. 9 on the D'Iberville home field.

Hancock North Central coach Irvin Favre says that the Hawks are taking the games one at a time.

"We think that this week's game, no matter who we are playing, is the most important game of the week," Favre said.

Traveling to Vancleave, the Hawks will come up against a team that Hancock North Central coach Irvin Favre describes as hardnosed and aggressive.

"They will have the home field advantage and we expect a real hard game from them," Favre said.

Both teams have a season record of two wins and four losses.

The 35-7 score of Vancleave's loss to Stone County last week doesn't tell the entire story as the Bulldogs had a 7-0 halftime lead.

"We are more concerned with our own playing than anything," Favre said. "We just want to continue to improve and to correct the mistakes."

Defensively we will be keying to stop their outstanding running back, John Warren, he said.

"A key player for Vancleave, Warren, carries the ball a big percentage of the time for the Bulldogs," Favre said.

"He can score from anywhere on the field and is a good runner," he added. "We are going to have to stop him."

Favre said that offensively the team will be running the ball and hopefully moving it as they have been able to the last couple of weeks.

"Hopefully we can have a good night offensively," he said. "In the past two weeks we have got some things to happen on offense and have been very pleased with their performance."

Kickoff for the game will be at 7:30 p.m.

FULL STRINGER
Fishermen are gamblers at heart. They toss the dice every time they go out, hoping the cubes will turn up their number. Statistics are usually dull but when it comes to understanding why some fishermen have had luck, the numbers tell an interesting story. Here are some revealing statistics gathered by Mercury outdoors fishing experts who are pleased to say that lady luck still plays a big part in fishing success. All the best available estimates show that there are about 31.5 million acres of warm water in the United States. If you exclude the Great Lakes, this figure comes down to 28.1 million acres. If this water were divided equally among the 40 million licensed anglers in America, each of us would have seven-tenths of an acre on which to fish. Right away you can begin to see the problem, because not all these 28 million acres are capable of raising fish. Choosing the right acre is like picking a winning horse. If you still think the odds are in your favor, consider the fact that the average angler makes 21 trips per year to his favorite fishing hole for a grand total of 840 million fishing excursions annually. That's 29 trips per acre of warm water. If each trip lasts five hours, then each acre of fishing water received 105 hours of pressure. Don't be discouraged by the numbers. Fishing is like playing poker; only instead of a full house you're after a full stringer, and luck still rules the game. FISH PARASITES Man and chiggers, fish and grubs. If there's a trait common to both humans and fish, it's our joint susceptibility to infestation by skin parasites. In the summer, unfortunately, man can rid himself of these bothersome creatures. Fish, however, are stuck with them. Many bass, sunfish and crappie, particularly those taken from small impoundments, show signs of external parasites. Just as summer

ETV Brief

GREAT PERFORMANCES
A.R. Gurney's hit play, "The Dining Room," will be presented on "Great Performances" at 9 p.m., Friday, Oct. 19 on Mississippi ETV.

The play is set in a dining room, or, rather, many dining rooms, where various characters enact a multitude of capsule dramas. A cast of six, mostly drawn from the original Off-Broadway Playwrights Horizons production, performs more than 50 parts, ranging from a senile grandmother to a riotous cluster of five-year-olds.

The play has generated so much national interest that 43 productions have been presented by resident theaters across the country.

Book Review

Novelist Frederick Barthelme's latest work, "Second Marriage," is stirring literary waves far beyond the circles of his academic niche as a creative writing teacher and director of the Center for Writers at the University of Southern Mississippi.

His book—which focuses on a man's unique living arrangement with his wife and ex-wife—won rave reviews last month from critics of Newsweek magazine and the New York Times Book Review. The international attention in these publications, complete with photos of the author, rubber-stamped an earlier favorable review by the less widely circulated Publishers Weekly.

"His dialogue is impeccable; his characters are fully human and engaging, rendered with unsentimental warmth," New York Times Book Review critic Ron Leowinsohn said in a Sept. 28 review of Barthelme's 217-page novel, which was published by Simon & Schuster.

"...this is a striking performance that admits its fabricator to the front ranks of contemporary writers," Publishers Weekly critic Sybil Steinberg said of the book in an Aug. 3 review.

Newsweek's Peter Prescott last week characterized Barthelme's protagonists in "Second Marriage" as creatures of the "postartistic generation," comparing them with the "shrugging and scratching" movie characters so often portrayed by actors Marlon Brando and the late James Dean.

"Unlike Raymond Carver, another master of postartistic fiction," Prescott concluded, "Barthelme avoids sharp edges. His stories may be bleak, but there's a tenderness about them that's both astonishing and pleasing."

"There's a difference between articulate and being verbose," Barthelme, a bearded 40-year-old Texan, said in mildly disagreeing with Prescott's description of his book as an example of postartistic fiction. "It seems to me, to be articulate is knowing when to speak and when not to speak."

But the USM faculty member, basking in the sudden limelight of critical acclaim during an interview from his office perch on the second floor of College Hall—the heart of the university's English Department—said he was "very pleased" by the reviews, and particularly was impressed that Prescott had noticed the "tenderness" expressed in the relationship of the book's characters.

Barthelme, a Houston native, studied art and architecture at the University of Houston during the 1960s, working and living for awhile in New York City, and launched his writing career with a collection of short stories, "Rangoon," in 1970 and a novel, "War & War," in 1971.

After studying under John Barth and taking a M.A. in creative writing at Johns Hopkins University, he joined the USM staff in 1977 as director of the Center for Writers and associate professor of English. Another collection of his short stories, "Moon Deluxe," was published by Simon & Schuster in 1983 and he writes extensively for New Yorker, Esquire, Penthouse and other national publications.

Barthelme—who sleeps late, teaches creative writing classes in the afternoons and does most of his writing between 11 p.m. and 3 a.m., when it's "very quiet"—compared the creative writing process to the physical-mental-spiritual ebb and flow experienced by long distance runners. "At some point, you get a sense of things, whether you're running poorly or things are singing along..."

"When you're sitting there facing a blank page, you don't start with a scheme. Something develops out of the writing process itself... The words of the first sentence comprise a world, by implication and suggestion. You fill that world, modify and change it as you go along. Then, you revise it until you're blue in the face."

Generation Gap?

"Honor: what a spiky, uncomfortable thing it can be. I expect the young are wise to be dropping it."

—Rose Macaulay

Each generation looks at its children with mingled pride and horror and thinks they are destroying standards, overturning values, and generally going to wrack and ruin.

In Greece, in the fourth century B.C., Plato complained that young people had no morals and that their music was barbaric.

What we've not understood, for 2,500 years and more, is that each new generation simply re-names the old truths in the process of making them their own. Love, courage, honesty, generosity of the spirit—these values don't change, although they may turn up in unfamiliar shapes.

Virtues may seem spiky and uncomfortable to young people, who need to claim their own experience. But each generation will discover the truth for itself. We needn't fear that the new will destroy the old; it will simply make it new.

Keep in mind that the young people of each age seek an identity that sets them apart from their elders—without realizing that in this way, too, they resemble them.

(From "The Promise of a New Day: a Book of Daily Meditations" by Karen Casey and Martha Vanceburg. Published by Hazelden, Center City, Mn.)

STUDENT MEMBER—Jim Thriffliey, a senior at St. Stanislaus High School, has been chosen to represent St. Stanislaus on the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. He will serve as an ex-officio member of the board of directors. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thriffliey III of Bay St. Louis. (SSC photo by John Falcon)

ST. STANISLAUS STUDENT COUNCIL officers for 1984-85 are, standing from left, Matt Scardino, first vice-president; Chuck Yarborough, president; Jody Compretta, second vice-president; seated from left, Steve Montague, treasurer; and Mike Yarborough, secretary. (SSC photo by John Falcon)

COLD IN YOUR HOME? DON'T SWEAT IT ALL YOU NEED IS THE COMFORT MACHINE.

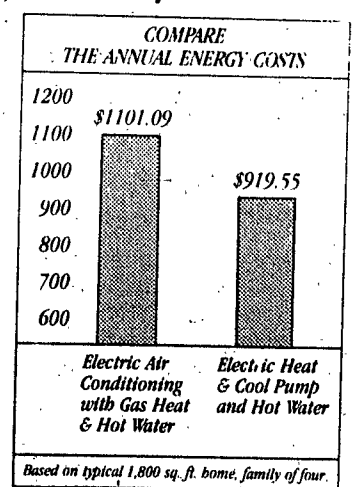

When the mercury shivers downward and you feel the wind-chill factor in your bones, you know it's wintertime around here.

Time to warm your home with an electric Heat & Cool Pump like the ones used in Good Cents Homes built from scratch. One simple unit does all the work of old-fashioned air-conditioning and gas heating systems.

It's more efficient than natural gas. Costs less to operate. Keeps your home in the comfort zone year 'round.

Starting this winter, warm your home the smart way—with the year 'round comfort machine. Call Mississippi Power for more information.

PRC, ammo plant partnership recognized

Pearl River College, Mason Chamberlain Inc. and the United States Army were all recently recognized by National Secretary of Education Terrell Bell for their partnership arrangement in operating the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant.

The Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant (MAAP) is the most complex facility of its kind in the world and is fast becoming a model of how industry and education can work together for building partnerships in rural America.

MAAP, the first new Army ammunition plant since World War II, was constructed in Hancock County on the NASA Test Site property. Today, more than 1,250 persons are on line in this latest state of the art "high technology" industrial facility.

Back in 1981, the Mississippi Legislature earmarked funds for working with industry. MAAP was one of the first to take advantage of the commitment to provide custom training for a new work force.

The partnership arrangement between the Mississippi State Vocational Education Department, Pearl River College, Mason Chamberlain, Inc., the contractor for the plant, and the Army is proving very successful in providing rural citizens with the education and training necessary to successfully work in the plant.

"It has been a tremendous team effort," said Jack Cummins, general manager of Mason-Chamberlain Incorporated. "We have reached the point where we no longer think of Pearl River College as something else...it's a part of us. And I think Pearl River thinks the same way about us."

Cummins said starting up a "virgin plant" is a very difficult task. "The complexity of this plant is amazing," said Cummins. "Every operation is affected by computer control...robotics is the name of our game."

Of the 1,250 employees at MAAP, less than 10 percent had previously worked in this type plant. "This gives you an idea of the magnitude of our task," Cummins said. "It was almost overwhelming."

"Pearl River College has been the bright spot," Cummins said. "I would hate to think how we would have fared without Pearl River College."

Since 1981, Pearl River has trained 780 persons through its industrial training program. This has allowed local people to prepare themselves through an educational process for the jobs checked by MAAP. At the same time, it has provided a custom trained work force for the company resulting in higher productivity and lower start-up cost.

This is a savings to the taxpayer and a boost to the economy of rural Mississippi. "This is not a give-away program," said Elwyn Wheat, assistant superintendent of vocational education. "It's an investment for our state."

Wheat said the state is making progress when considering the taxes these individuals pay after going to work. Wheat also said that the work Pearl River College has done for MAAP will make other industry want to come to Mississippi.

"Ironically, Mississippi has a problem selling people on our partnership idea and on the fact that we can deliver the training," Wheat said. "A lot of states can sell and not deliver. We can deliver, but we have trouble selling."

Pearl River College has not only provided classroom instruction, but has also staffed a department of graphic artists, photographers and copy editors to design operating manuals for the entire plant.

"This plant is so modern, so technical, that manuals are not available," Cummins said. "Here again Pearl River comes into play as they furnish us with a staff to design manuals for the plant."

Cummins pointed out, with pride, the operational manuals for the coal-fired power plant and the use of the very complex environmental control device. "Once the manuals are together, Pearl River provides the instructional extension course needed."

Dr. James Sones, dean of vocational-technical education at PRC, recently returned from Washington, D.C. where he attended the national conference "Building Partnerships for Quality Education in Rural America." The conference was sponsored by the US Department of Education.

The MAAP was one of the featured partnerships presented at the conference. The title of the presentation was "Preparing the Workforce for High Technology Employment."

President Marvin R. White accepted the award for Pearl River College.

Accreditation hearing set

The Commission on School Accreditation will hold a series of public hearings during the month of October. The hearings, to be held in seven different locations, will focus on the proposed standards for a performance-based school accreditation system.

The hearing for the Gulf Coast area will be Monday, Oct. 22 at Gulfport High School Auditorium.

Anyone who wishes to make a comment, but is unable to attend one of the hearings, may send a written statement to: Accreditation Public Hearings, State Department of Education, Box 771, Jackson, Ms 39205.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADER—Dana Favre of Bay St. Louis has been named a junior varsity cheerleader for Mississippi State University. Favre is an alternate to the varsity squad and serves as head cheerleader of the junior varsity. Junior varsity cheerleaders perform at women's basketball games. Favre was a Bay Senior High cheerleader and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Favre.

Certification to be subject of hearings

The Commission on Teacher and Administrator Education, Certification and Development will hold a series of public hearings in October and November.

The hearings, to be held in seven locations, including Gulfport, will focus on the proposed system of certifying and re-certifying teachers and administrators, teacher and administrator development, provisional certification, and evaluation of teacher training programs.

Mandated by the Education Reform Act, the proposed system is the product of a one-year study by the commission. The Gulfport hearing will be at 7 p.m., Nov. 8, in Gulfport High School auditorium.

All persons interested in making comments should also bring a written copy of their statement, which will be entered into the record.

Anyone who wishes to make comment, but is unable to attend a hearing, may send a written statement to: Certification Public Hearings, State Department of Education, P.O. Box 771, Jackson, MS 39205.

ACUTE HEAD PAINS
Acute head pains that would begin at the base of her head and eventually extend to the sides, top and front of her head. They would last for days, and she even would wake up with them. Previous tests revealed no brain lesion and sedatives only slightly dulled the pains. Finally, she arranged an appointment at our office. We made a complete Chiropractic examination and spinal x-rays and found the spinal bones at the base of her neck were twisted out of place squeezing the nerves, making them irritated and hot. Within a week her pains were gone and a short time later good correction of the spinal bones was achieved and she has not experienced a return of these headaches since. If you suffer with headaches, pills will help the pain, but Chiropractic may end years of the problem by locating and removing the basic cause and add years and years to your life in the process.

Kindergarten workshop scheduled for Oct. 24

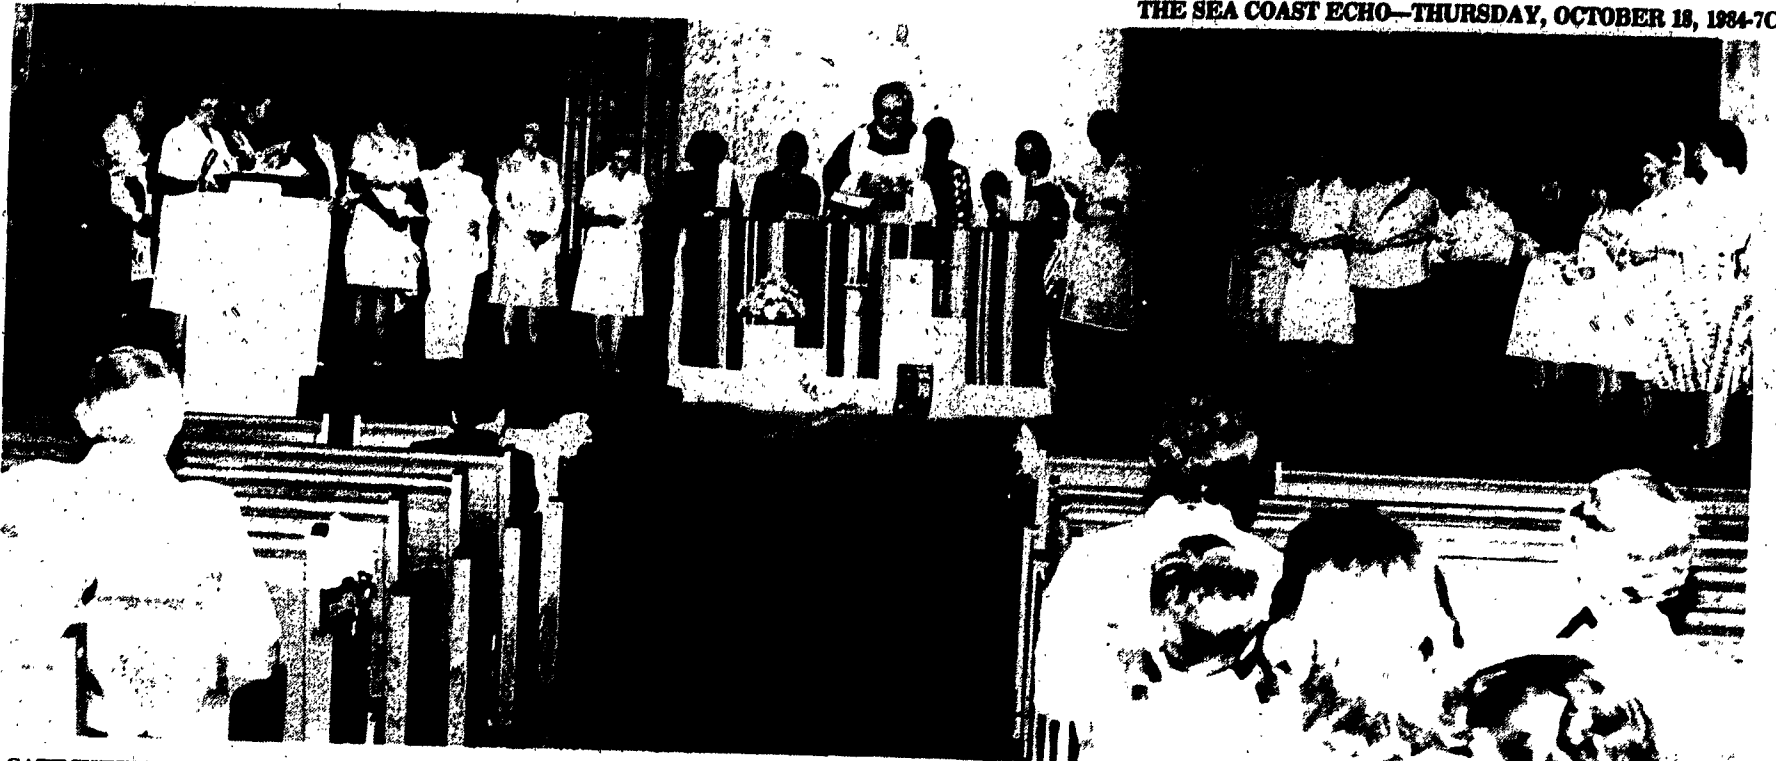

Mississippi school districts will soon be receiving help in filing applications needed to implement kindergarten programs.

The State Department of Education has scheduled five workshops in October designed to help districts in making the program application necessary to implement kindergartens. "The application procedure will be explained and participants will be advised on the mechanics of completing the procedure," said Dr. Cathy Grace, SDE early childhood coordinator.

The workshop for the Gulf Coast area will be Oct. 24 from 9 a.m. until noon at the Malone Hall auditorium on the campus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College in Perkinston.

The Education Reform Act mandates that all school districts shall have kindergarten programs by the 1988-87 school year.

Cheerleaders attend camp

Eight students from the Bay St. Louis area recently attended a four-day summer cheerleading and gymnastic camp at the University of Southern Mississippi.

The camp featured instruction in cheerleading conditioning, gymnastics safety and techniques, new cheers and chants, leadership seminars, pom-pom routines and private coaching on a daily basis. Gymnastics camp helped participants attain their maximum potential in gymnastics.

Local students attending included Lorraine Williams, Darlene Minton, Tricia Ward, Tamisha Rooks, Tina L. Sokol and Elizabeth Ann Gumbleton, all of Bay St. Louis; Julie Haas of Diamondhead; and Tiffany Steen of Kiln.

Fayard, Anne Shippey, Juanita Loup, Betty Lizana, Carol Hansell, Maryjo Krueck, Darlene Green, Harriet Bellone, Betty Bensabat, Eileen Riddle, Susan Estrade, Mary V. Ruspoli, Barbara Worrel, Sandra Russell, Joan Bilbo, Sr. Mary Florida, Sr. Mary Jane and Marlon Cassidy.

JUNIOR HIGH FHA—Attending a recent district planning meeting at Long Beach High School are Bay Junior High Future Homemakers of America officers, from left, Nichole Rauxet, peer educator for families and futures; Jennifer Proulx, peer educator for March of Dimes; Tami Ellis, reporter; Kim Billiot, treasurer; Karen Terrell, secretary; Regan Pullin, vice-president; Lisa McGill, president; and Mrs. Marilyn Bailey, adviser.
